

SPECIAL REPORT

GROSS NEGLIGENCE?

On 2 June, 1994, an RAF Chinook helicopter crashed on the fogbound Mull of Kintyre, killing its crew and the cream of Ulster's intelligence agents. Eamonn O'Neill asks if the pilots were really to blame

